TITLE (BOLD,UPPER CASE LETTERS)

Authors (Family Name and initials. Title or degree) [1]
[1]Affiliation(s) (Institute, organization, City, Country)

SUMMARY

The abstract can not exceed one A4 page, including figures, tables and formulas.

CONCLUSIONS

Character fonts and dimensions. (Times New Roman, 10 points/inch, single line spacing), page format (A4 size, 2,5 cm margins at each side), paragraph (left justified, 0,5cm indentation for the first line of a paragraph, a blank line separation between two sections) etc must be as in the present template. The abstract's sections must be arranged in the following order: Summary, Conclusions, Introduction, Patients/Materials and Methods, Results, Discussion, References

INTRODUCTION

This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section. This is the introduction section.

PATIENTS/MATERIALS and METHODS

This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section. This is the patients/materials and methods section.

RESULTS

This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section. This is the results section.

DISCUSSION

This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section. This is the discussion section.

REFERENCES

[1] First author etc
[2] First author etc
[3] First author etc